

MY HEARING AID WHISTLES!

The whistling that occurs in hearing aids is called feedback. What happens is, the sound coming out of the hearing aid loops back around and goes back into the microphone of the hearing aid. You may have noticed feedback from a speaker sound system when the person holding the microphone gets too close to the speaker. It is the same idea with hearing aids